Re: Augusta Named as One of America's Top 100 Places to Live for 2009

RelocateAmerica.com, a website that provides relocating consumers & area residents with access to local community resources has ranked Augusta, Georgia in its annual listing of "America's Top 100 Places to live for 2009".

Quotes Mayor Copenhaver, "Needless to say, to be included on Relocate-America's "Top 100 Places to Live in 2009" list is a great recognition for Augusta. It's definitely humbling to be included on a list which also includes major cities such as Houston, Seattle, and Dallas, as well as cities of similar size like Greenville and Chattanooga. This once again stands as a strong example that Augusta is on the move and that the rest of the nation is taking notice."
